Using digital tools of teaching and learning in Social Firms in Europe

Context

Bucovina Institute, Lead Partner in the SEPAL Project (Supporting Employment Platform through Apprenticeship Learning) is also a partner in the Erasmus+ Project – DIGI4SE. In this regard, we invited the WISE Experts within the SEPAL Project to participate in the online training entitled Using digital tools of teaching and learning in Social Firms in Europe, conducted by Professor Dr. Christina Buschle, lecturer at IU International University of Applied Sciences, Germany. The seminar took place on February 26th, 2021.

Therefore, we had 12 participants from 5 countries: Romania, Spain, Greece, Lithuania and Poland taking part in the online training which had a duration of approximately 120 minutes. The participants within the training work as WISE Experts (Work Integration Social Enterprises) within the SEPAL Project, being in contact with young people (NEETs) aged between 24 and 29 years old, coming from vulnerable groups (low-skilled, Roma people, migrants, at risk of poverty or disabled). Among them, we had vocational counsellors, job mediators, psychologists and trainers who help the NEETs to find their professional path, which leads to their socio-professional inclusion. Their activity is organized face-to-face, but also online, using several digital tools in order to communicate with the young people, to inform them, to offer them other services such as evaluation, counselling sessions, job mediation, job clubs, trainings, coaching, etc. Our WISE Experts come from Social Cooperatives, NGOs and Universities.

The seminar was also successfully conducted in December 2020 and April 2021 with two further learning groups.

On the right, a grid of video feeds shows several participants, including Silviu Petranu, Alina Adomnica, Christina Buschle, Esra Minic, Diana Cim, NAFSKA PAPA..., Dimita Gengje, Gintare Janusa, Vaida Kaupalyte, and Glibica Irina. The Zoom control bar at the bottom includes icons for Mute, Stop Video, Participants, Chat, Share Screen, Resume/Stop Recording, and Reactions.

The screenshot shows a Padlet board titled "Using digital tools of teaching and learning". The board is a corkboard with several pinned posts. A blue callout box points to a post with the text:

Task of the day: Post everything that is important to you on our Padlet.

Other annotations include:

- A red circle around a post titled "Task of the 'day'" with a "Delete post" button.
- A blue callout box: "You can edit your posts." pointing to a post.
- A blue callout box: "Click here to post, or: double-click anywhere, paste from clipboard, drag & drop files in" pointing to a post.
- A blue callout box: "You can like and comment posts" pointing to a post's interaction bar.

At the bottom of the slide, the text reads: "22.04.2021 Christina Buschle, IU International University of Applied Sciences Source: Screenshot 7".

Evaluation

9 out of 13 participants answered to the Evaluation Questionnaire which has been sent via e-mail. It contained 6 questions referring to the topics approached, the speakers’s intervention, the time frame, the usefulness of the presented materials, the using of the digital tools and last, but not least to mention a topic useful in their work. For the first five questions, the participant has to answer using the scale from 1 to 5, where 1 means "Poor" and 5 "Excellent". The last one was an open question and the participants expressed their view regarding the digital tools that are or will be useful in their work.

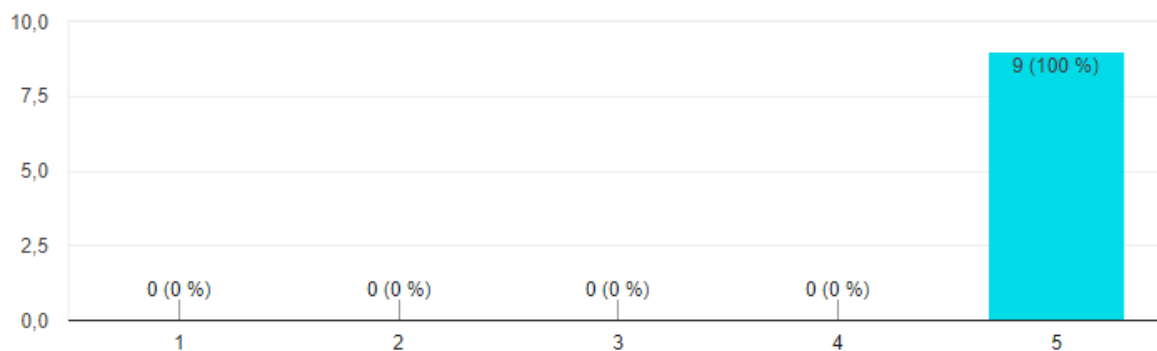

How do you appreciate the topics approached during the workshop?

Kahoot - it was the first time I played this game and seemed so interactive, enriching the competitiveness of the participants.

Kahoot was very useful

practical tools for teaching

I will definitely use Padlet in my work. Thank you :-)
